

NBA-sim

NBA-sim is a game where the objective of the game is to crush your best friends in a basketball simulation game, where you choose your own team. What you do and who you choose comes down to your specific situation

How to play

Login/registrate

The first thing you see is that you get the opportunity to log inn or reg

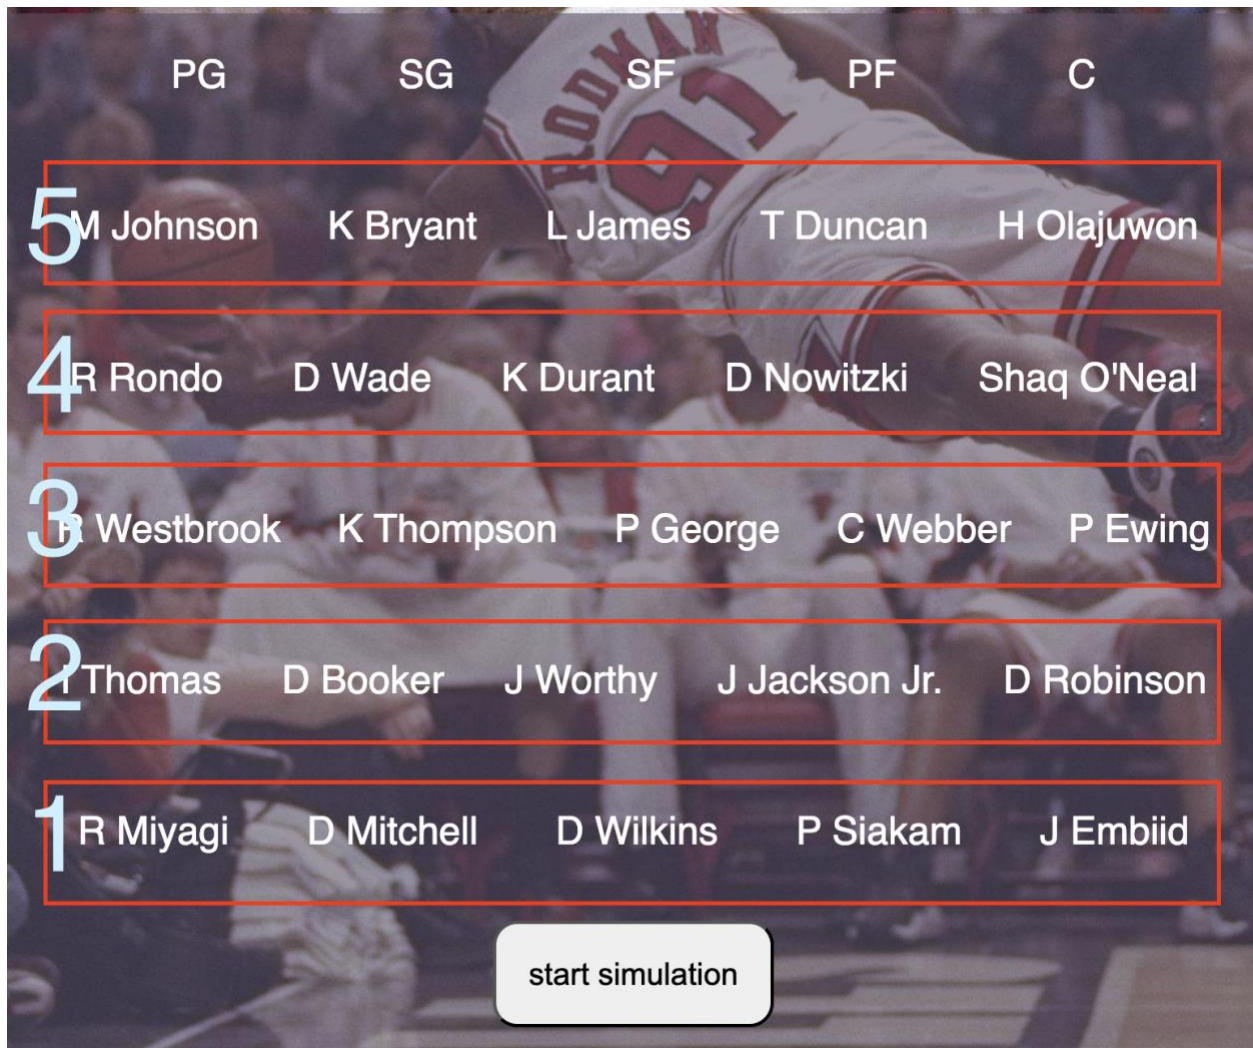

It's not relevant to the game itself, but if you want to get on the "leaderboard" or have your matches logged, then I would log in. Otherwise, you can just choose a team name each and get started.

Draft

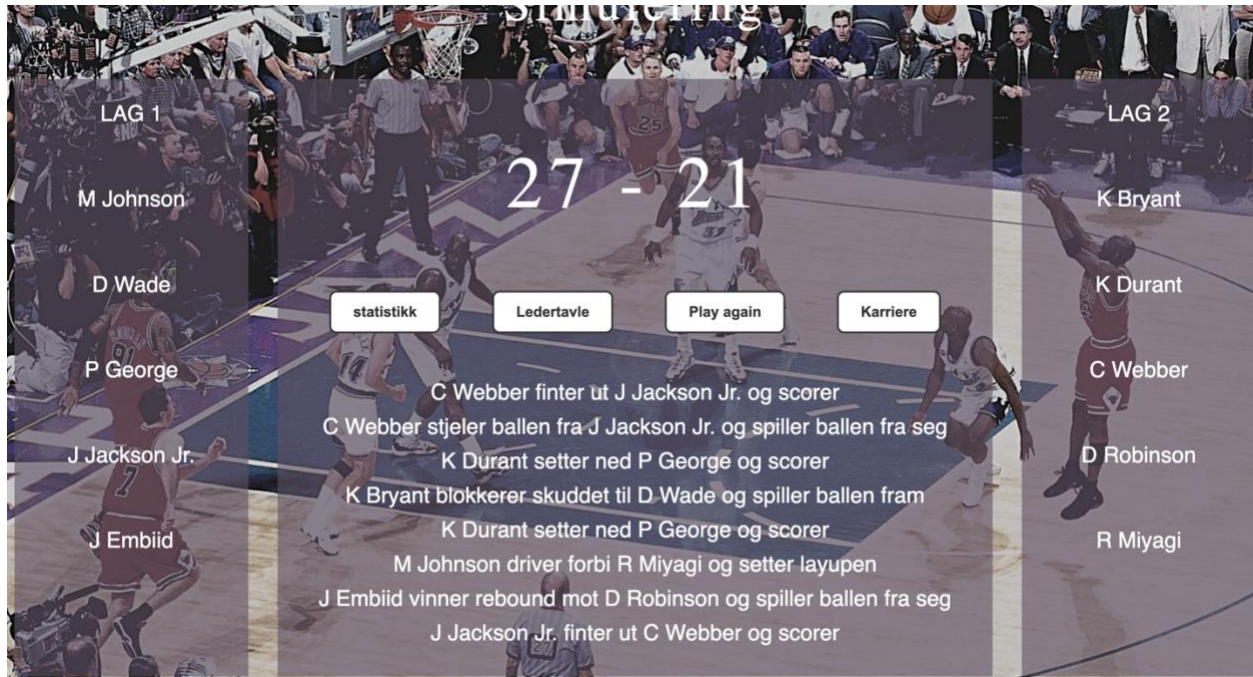

This is how the draft looks. The draft is based on a money system, where you have 15 dollars (which you can see in the bottom of both corners).

The players are divided into five categories, where the top row is 5, the next 4 down to 1. The goal is that you should be able to choose freely (so for example two fives two ones and a three), but for now you have to choose a player from each row, which means that if you end up with a player having no relevant players left, the whole system crashes, so you have to be careful. But you MUST take a player from each row. In addition, you MUST have a player in each position, because if you choose someone in the same position, the system also crashes. Each player takes turns choosing, when both players have chosen five players you can start the simulation

Simulering

Sit back and enjoy the simulation, if you are logged in you can go and see your career, the leaderboard, or you can see the statistics for the match.
